

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

JUNAID RAMSEY HALL ,

Plaintiff,

v.

ILENE ANDERSON, et al.,

Defendant.

CASE NO. 3:24-cv-05455-LK-BAT

PRETRIAL SCHEDULING ORDER

Defendants have filed an Answer to plaintiff Junaid Ramsay Hall's pro se Complaint.

The Court therefore ORDERS:

DISCOVERY

Discovery is the process by which one party asks another party to provide relevant information about the case. A party should not file discovery requests or discovery materials with the court unless the party is moving to compel, seeking a protective order, or is otherwise supporting a motion. A party seeking discovery must serve a discovery request on the other party. There are several ways to ask for discovery including: depositions in which one party asks another person questions about the lawsuit; interrogatories in which written questions are served on another party; and requests for production in which a written request to provide documents

1 relevant to the lawsuit is served on another party. See Rules 30, 33 and 34 of the Federal Rules
2 of Civil Procedure.

3 All discovery in this case must be completed by October 22, 2024. This includes serving
4 responses to interrogatory questions and requests for production, and the completion of all
5 depositions. Responses to interrogatory questions and requests for production must be served not 6 later than 30 days after service of the discovery requests. The serving party, therefore, must
7 serve his/her discovery requests by September 20, 2024, so that the responding party can answer
8 by the discovery cut-off. See Rules 33(b) and 34(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
9 Discovery requests must be served directly on the opposing party's counsel by mail.

10 DISCOVERY DISPUTES

11 Any motion to compel discovery shall be filed not later than November 5, 2024. From 12 time to time disputes over whether discovery has been properly provided arise. If a discovery
13 dispute arises, a party must fulfill the Court's meet and confer requirements before filing a 14 motion to compel discovery. See Local Rule 37. The local rule requires the party seeking 15 discovery to make a good faith effort to confer with the opposing party either through a face-to-
16 face meeting or a telephone conference. Any motion to compel discovery must include a written
17 certification that the moving party has in good faith effort either met and conferred or attempted
18 to meet and confer. A motion to compel that lacks such a certification will be summarily denied.

19 The motion to compel must: (1) list the matters on which the parties were unable to agree;
20 (2) identify the nature and relevance of the documents and materials sought; (3) list the reason(s)
21 why the mandatory initial disclosures were inadequate; and, (4) explain why the discovery sought
22 is proportional to the needs of the case, considering the importance of the issues at stake in the 23 action, the amount in controversy, the parties' relative access to relevant information, the parties' resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit.

MOTIONS

A motion is a formal request that asks the Court to take certain action. All argument in support of the motion must be set forth in the motion itself and not in a separate document. See Local Rule CR 7(b)(1). Each motion, together with a proposed order, must be served on the opposing party so that the opposing party has an opportunity to respond. In addition, each motion must state in its caption, right below the motion's title, a noting date. The noting date is the date the Court will review your motion.

1) Same Day Motions. Stipulated, joint or unopposed motions (see for example LCR 10(g)), motions to file over-length motions or briefs (see LCR 7(f)), motions for reconsideration (see LCR 7(h)), joint submissions pursuant to the optional procedure established in LCR 37(a)(2), motions to appoint a mediator (LCR 39.1(c)(3)), motions for default (see LCR 55(a)), requests for the clerk to enter default judgment (see LCR 55(b)(1)), ex parte motions, motions for the court to enter default judgment where the opposing party has not appeared (see LCR 55(b)(2)), motions to recuse (see LCR 3(f)), and motions for a temporary restraining order ("TRO") (see LCR 65) shall be noted for consideration for the day they are filed.

2) 21-Day Motions. With the exception of the motions specifically listed in LCR 7(d)(1) (same day motions) and 7(d)(4) (28 day motions), all other motions shall be noted for consideration no earlier than 21 days from the date of filing.

Any opposition papers shall be filed and received by the moving party no later than 15 days after the filing date of the motion.

Any reply papers shall be filed and received by the opposing party no later than 21 days after the filing date of the motion.

3) 28-Day Motions. Motions to Dismiss, motions for summary judgment, motions seeking a preliminary injunction, motions to exclude expert testimony for failure to satisfy Fed. R. Evid. 702/Daubert, motions for class certification, and motions directed toward changing the forum (through remand, transfer, or to compel arbitration) shall be noted for consideration no earlier than 28 days after filing.

Any opposition papers shall be filed and received by the moving party no later than 21 days after the filing date of the motion.

1 Any reply papers shall be filed and received by the opposing party no later than 28 days
2 after the filing date of the motion.

3 Any dispositive motion shall be filed and served on or before November 21, 2024. If a
4 motion for summary judgment is filed, it is important for the opposing party to note the 5 following:

6 A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal
7 Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

8 Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for 9 summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be 10 granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact – that is, if 11 there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result
12 of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled 13 to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a 14 party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is 15 properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you 16 cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendant's declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.

16 Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 962-63 (9th Cir. 1998) (emphasis added).

17 Defendants MUST serve Rand and Wyatt notices concurrently with motions to dismiss
18 and motions for summary judgment so that pro se prisoner plaintiffs will have fair, timely and 19 adequate notice of what is required of them in order to oppose those motions. Woods v. Carey,
20 684 F.3d 934, 942 (9th Cir. 2012). The Ninth Circuit's model language for such notices is noted 21 above. Defendants who do not file and serve, in a separate document, the required Rand and 22 Wyatt notices may face (a) immediate striking of their motions with leave to refile and 23 (b) possible monetary sanctions.

JOINT PRETRIAL STATEMENT

A Joint Pretrial Statement deadline will be established at a later date, pending the outcome of any motions for dismissal or summary judgment.

PROOF OF SERVICE AND SANCTIONS

All motions, pretrial statements, and other filings must be accompanied by proof that such documents were served upon the opposing party's lawyer or upon any party acting pro se. The proof must show the day and manner of service and may be by written acknowledgment of service, by certificate of a member of the bar of this court, by affidavit of the person who served the papers, or by any other proof satisfactory to the court. Prisoners subject to the Court's Mandatory E-Filing Project may comply with this requirement by certifying as to the date the document(s) is handed to the law librarian for scanning. Failure to comply with the provisions of the Order can result in dismissal/default judgment or other appropriate sanctions. Failure to comply with the provisions of this Order can result in dismissal of the case or other appropriate sanctions.

EXTENSIONS

The deadlines contained in this Order are firm and will not be extended by the Court except upon application to the Court with a showing of good cause.

ADDRESS

The parties are to promptly update the Court with any change of address or other contact information.
